

Leaves Garden, Chicago Pilot Lost In Flight

Coast Guard and private planes today searched Green Bay for a Chicago pilot, Don Miller, about 43, who was last seen yesterday afternoon at Garden when he took off in his private plane for a return trip to Chicago.

Miller was reported missing last night and today the Coast Guard at Traverse City and Fred Sensaba of Pioneer Aviation, Escanaba, set out in planes to cover the "island route" from Fairport across Green Bay to Door County, Wis.

Weekend At Garden
The Casey brothers, former Garden residents, and Miller, arrived Friday in Garden by plane.

They had flown there from Chicago a number of times in the past several years on vacation trips. This time they spent the Memorial Day weekend there and took off for the return trip at 4:45 p. m., Sunday.

The sky was overcast and John Casey reported that he did not see Miller's plane following out of Garden.

Arriving in Chicago at 6 p. m., Casey waited and when Miller was still unreported he telephoned the Escanaba airport last night, thinking Miller might have come down here.

Followed The Islands
Casey then telephoned Garden and a report was made this morning to the Coast Guard at Escanaba by Chet LaPine, Garden, who asked the Coast Guard to assist in the search.

LaPine said today that Miller had hunted and fished often in the Garden area in the past and with the Caseys, who were born and raised there, had often come to Garden by plane. He knew the "island route" from Garden to Door County Peninsula well and

Deserter's Wife Saved On Ledge

MIAMI, Fla. (P)—The pretty 15-year-old wife of an Army deserter was rescued from a narrow ledge on the 25th floor at the Dade County Courthouse today after threatening "get my husband or I'll jump."

Mrs. Sheila Mosso tumbled into the arms of sheriff Thomas J. Kelly at 9:13 a. m. CST, just three hours and 53 minutes after she was discovered sobbing and swaying in the wind on the one-foot wide ledge.

She was brought inside the jail and then she fainted.

She was discovered at 5:20 a. m. CST, and a huge crowd gathered on the street below, to watch the drama on the skyscraper in the heart of Miami.

"I want my husband and I he isn't here in two hours I will jump," Mrs. Mosso declared. The two hours passed and she was still there, sometimes leaning against a stone ornament on the ledge to keep from falling.

"Get my husband here," she kept repeating. "I tried to commit suicide before when I lost my baby. They wouldn't let me see him then. I go crazy when I can't see my husband."

Her husband, Pvt. James E. Mosso, 24, was at MacDill Field, Tampa, after his recapture near Ft. Lauderdale Wednesday. Air Force authorities said he deserted from Camp Breckenridge, Ky., Feb. 1.

Son Of Rosenbergs, 10, Asks Eisenhower To Free Convicted Spies

NEW YORK (P)—The Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case says the 10-year-old son of doomed atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg has written to President Eisenhower asking him to "let my mommy and daddy go."

The committee said Sunday night it had obtained a copy of the letter from Michael Rosenberg.

Michael wrote the letter May 20, the committee said, before the U. S. Supreme Court rejected a renewed appeal to set aside the death sentences imposed on his parents. Execution has been rescheduled for the week of June 15.

In the letter, as quoted by the committee, the boy said he got the appeal idea from the recent release of Associated Press Correspondent William N. Oatis from a Communist Czech prison.

The Rosenberg committee gave out this text of the May 20 letter attributed to Michael Rosenberg:

"Dear President Eisenhower: 'I saw on television on Monday Mr. Oatis is not in prison anymore because the president of the country let him go. I said his wife wrote a letter to the President over there and she told my Mr. Oatis should be let go. I think it is a good thing to let him go home because I think prison is a very bad place for anybody to be.'

"My mommy and daddy are in prison in New York. My brother is six years old. His name is Robby. He misses them very much and I miss them too. I got the idea to write you from Mr. Oatis on television. Please let my mommy and daddy go and not let anything happen to them. If they come home Robby and I will be very happy we will thank you very much."

"Very truly yours,
"Michael Rosenberg."

White House officials were not available for comment on the announcement of the letter.

Secret Prints In Stolen Car
CAMDEN, N. J. (P)—A set of blueprints for the Savannah River hydrogen bomb plant now under construction at Aiken, S. C., was reported found by Camden police while searching a stolen car yesterday.

Authorities said the prints, described as piping drawings, were marked "restricted and security information." Six young men in the auto were arrested.

The car is owned by Benjamin L. Tabor, a chemical engineer of Rochester, N. Y. He is an employee of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Company of Wilmington, Del., which is constructing the plant for the Atomic Energy Commission.

The discovery was confirmed by the Philadelphia office of the FBI, which said an investigation was under way.

Tabor was quoted as saying he left the plans in his auto, which he parked at the International Airport in Philadelphia before taking a plane home. The FBI said the prints are being impounded pending Tabor's arrival from Rochester.

The six boys, all of whom denied any knowledge of the presence of the drawings in the glove compartment of the stolen vehicle, were slated on larceny charges. They were arrested after driving recklessly into a gasoline station where police were investigating a minor accident.

Rift Over New Armistice Plan Becomes Wider

By GEORGE SWEERS
CHINHAIE, Korea (P)—South Korea's ranking Cabinet member said today his nation can and will fight the Reds by itself if the Allies sign an armistice based on the latest Allied proposal—and he predicted they will.

As the rift widened between South Korea and her allies, Acting Prime Minister Pyun Yung Tai emerged from a 3½-hour emergency Cabinet meeting at President Syngman Rhee's summer villa in Chinhaie and told newsmen:

"Some people think the ROK Army will not be able to go on fighting if United Nations ammunition and other military supplies stop. Just wait and see."

Communists Ask Recess
"Personally," he added, "I think the new Allied proposal is very similar to what the Communists are proposing and, therefore, I see no reason why the Communists will not accept—unless the Communists are waiting for World War III."

Pyun said his government would issue a formal statement but did not say when.

He would not confirm reports that Rhee and President Eisenhower had exchanged messages on the violent South Korean opposition.

However, in Washington, officials obviously were concerned over the "two fronts" facing the Allies—negotiations with the Reds for an armistice and efforts to assuage South Korean anger.

The latest Allied prisoner exchange proposal, submitted a week ago, set off a broadside of South Korean objections. The Communists were expected to answer it today, but were granted a recess extension until Thursday.

(By The Associated Press)
Twenty-one persons were accident victims in Michigan over the Memorial Day weekend.

Traffic mishaps claimed 11 lives, seven were drowned, two were fire victims and one was injured fatally when a tractor tipped over.

Among latest reported victims were:

Gary A. Lund, 16, Ludington, fatally injured when he lost control of his car and it struck a tree three miles north of Manistee.

Mrs. Katie Cummings, 71, of Chio, killed Sunday night as the car in which she was riding with her husband, Austin, 75, collided with another auto as it turned into US-10 about 15 miles north of Flint.

Forrest Hodge, Jr., 16, of Camden, killed in a two-car collision at a rural intersection 14 miles southwest of Hillsdale.

Mrs. Kay Sheehan, 31, of Melvindale, fatally injured as a car driven by Virgil Stockton, 24, hit a tree in Melvindale Sunday.

Stockton, a stock car racing driver, was critically hurt, and Mrs. Ruth A. Roberts, 22, also of Melvindale, had to have both her legs amputated as a result of injuries she suffered in the smashup.

Egypt Arrests 50
Suez Zone Suspects
CAIRO, Egypt (P)—Egypt's military government announced today it has arrested about 50 Egyptians and foreigners in the disputed Suez Canal zone on charge of "collaborating with a foreign power."

A spokesman at Egyptian Army headquarters did not identify the foreign power but it appeared probable he was referring to Britain, which has refused Egypt's demand that she withdraw her 80,000 troops from the strategic canal zone.

He said those arrested were "connected with the intelligence service" of the foreign power, and arrests took place in the past few days.

Czech Forced Labor Ordered; New Rules Wipe Out Savings

VIENNA, Austria (P)—The Czechoslovak Communist Parliament has decreed that all men under 60 and women under 50 can be forced to work unlimited hours for the state or community outside of their regular working time.

This became known today as millions of Czechoslovak citizens found their savings cut almost to nothing and their buying power sharply reduced by a drastic new currency reform.

The trade union newspaper Prace disclosed that, under a recent parliamentary action, every Czech worker can be called upon to work extra hours whenever "extraordinary difficulties" develop.

This means that a man who works a 48-hour week can be forced either to work unlimited additional hours in his own factory, or he can be sent to work in another plant, or in the fields or mines—wherever the Communist regime decrees.

Excluded from forced labor, besides old people, are women more than three months pregnant and women with children under six years of age.

Emil E. Hurja
Dies Suddenly
WASHINGTON (P)—Emil E. Hurja, 61, a native of Crystal Falls, Mich., and a former New Deal leader who switched to the Republican party in 1946, died after a collapse at the National Press Club here Saturday.

Hurja was executive director of the Democratic National Committee from 1932 to 1937 during the first term of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, but changed parties in 1946 when he sought election to Congress on the GOP ticket in the 12th Michigan district.

From 1939 to 1945, he was editor and publisher of Pathfinder magazine and acquired some fame as a political analyst. He is survived by his widow.

Bloody Fighting Stopped By Mud
By FORREST EDWARDS

SEOUL (P)—American Sabre jets prowling deep in North Korea shot down one MIG and damaged two others today in their first tangle with the Russian-made fighters in three days.

On the ground, a driving rain muddled the 155-mile battlefront and limited action to patrol-sized jabs. In sharp contrast to last week's savage battles, today's ground action was the quietest in 20 days.

The Eighth Army said the bloody fighting that erupted last week on the Western front cost the Reds 2,300 killed and 1,047 wounded.

The figures covered the May 29-30 battles for outposts Carson, Elko, Vegas, Berlin, East Berlin and The Rock.

Meanwhile, the Air Force said it lost only one Sabre jet to Red MIGs in May air battles, in which 55 Communist jets were destroyed, but 16 others were lost to ground fire and various causes.

The 55 MIGs shot down by American Sabres missed by eight the record 63 destroyed in September, 1952.

Among those knighted were two of Britain's most popular sports figures—World Champion Jockey Gordon Richards and Jack Hobbs, veteran cricket star.

The Queen's newest honors list marked her majesty's coronation and also her official birthday on June 11. It rewarded Britons in all walks of life for service and seniority.

A somber note was added, however, in the death yesterday of William Hepburn, 64, the Queen's gardener, while tending 33,000 special blooms he had grown for the coronation in Hyde Park. He had been awarded the Royal Victorian Order, Fifth Class, in the honors list.

Young Queen Elizabeth may go to Westminster Abbey some time tonight to pray on coronation eve just as did her father, King George VI, before he was crowned 16 years ago.

Streamliner Leaves Rails In Montana; 36 Persons Injured

SUPERIOR, Mont. (P)—An electrified streamliner left the rails in Montana's Bitterroot Mountains Sunday and 36 persons were hurt as five cars spilled down a bank. Sparks from broken power wires set two others afire.

A broken rail was blamed for the wreck of the Milwaukee Railroad's eastbound 10-car Olympia-Hiawatha five miles east of this Western Montana community of 575.

Most of the 163 passengers were asleep as the train, bound from Seattle to Chicago, cracked up rolling through a valley in the Bitterroots some 60 miles northwest of Missoula, Mont., and 160 miles southeast of Spokane, Wash.

Excess Profits Tax Arguments Get Going Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (P)—For a month the air will be blue with arguments that begin today when hearings open in Congress on the excess profits tax.

At stake: much money and a test of President Eisenhower's leadership. He asked Congress to continue the tax until Dec. 31. Otherwise, it will automatically end June 30.

Congress passed it after the Korean War started to get revenue for rearming, discourage high prices by draining off profits, and keep companies from getting too fat off defense contracts.

Three Choices Given
What follows is a general explanation of how the excess profits tax works, highly simplified. For the sake of brevity, the tax will be called EPT.

Almost no firm—there are exceptions—with earnings of less than $25,000 a year has to pay EPT. It pays a flat tax on 30 per cent, called a normal tax.

The total tax on any firm—regular tax and EPT—is limited to 70 per cent. Corporations can choose any one of three main methods, in figuring EPT, to get the lowest tax on themselves.

In this story a firm, called XYZ, will be used. Its 1952 earnings were $300,000. The regular tax on that $300,000—normal 30 per cent on the full amount and surtax of 22 per cent on $75,000—was $15,500.

Method No. 1—Since the tax limit is 70 per cent and XYZ has been taxed at the top rate of 52 per cent, it applies the remaining 18 per cent to its $300,000 earnings. Result: $54,000. That's EPT tax. Adding the EPT of $54,000 to the regular tax of $15,500, XYZ's total tax is $69,500. Too high? The firm looks for a lower tax by trying the next method.

Best Years Picked
Method No. 2—This raises a question: Just what is an excess profit? Excessive over what and when? For comparison, Congress had to find a basis, some period and earnings which might be considered normal or average. It picked

Holiday Traffic Deaths Lowered

(By The Associated Press)
The toll of traffic accidents for the Memorial Day holiday weekend fell far short of records but belated reports might raise it to the figure predicted by the National Safety Council.

Vehicle accidents from 6 p. m. Friday until Sunday midnight cost 228 lives. Drownings accounted for 90 more deaths and 45 died in a variety of accidents, raising the total to 363.

The safety council had predicted a death toll of 240 on the highways and streets during the 54-hour period.

The record number of Memorial Day deaths from automobile accidents was set at 363 in last year's three-day holiday week end. The bloodiest Memorial Day week end of all was that of 1950 when all accidental deaths numbered 571.

Recommend City Lease Site For Tower To WESK

The Escanaba Planning Commission in special meeting Friday evening adopted a recommendation to the City Council favoring a renewable two-year lease to the M. & M. Broadcasting Company, Marquette, to provide a site on city property for the erection of a radio tower and transmitter in Escanaba.

The requested site is 300 by 300 feet on city-owned property near Sheridan Road just north of the ore docks. It is there M. & M. proposes to erect station WESK's 150-foot tower and 250-watt transmitter station. Its studios will be in another location.

A rental of $400 per year for the site is recommended to the Council by the Planning Commission.

To Move If Asked

The lease recommended would automatically renew for two years for three lease terms, but it can be terminated by the city with six months notice. The city is not to assume responsibility for finding a new location if the station is asked to move.

The Planning Commission pointed out that the tower site has valuable possibilities for industrial development and would recommend the lease only with the stipulation that the city could terminate the lease on six months notice.

This was agreeable to Alister Alexander, chief engineer, and Barclay Conley, who will be station manager here for the M. & M. Broadcasting Company, who attended the Planning Commission session.

No date has been set for the start of WESK operations because final approval of the site must be received from the Federal Communications Commission and the Civil Aeronautics Administration after the City Council approves the recommended lease.

Only Available Site

The representatives of the M. & M. Broadcasting Company said they were unable to obtain a suitable site on private property in the city because of FCC and CAA regulations.

The area for the transmitter is limited in coverage and because of the airport the towers could not be located in that section of the city, they explained.

Some of the Planning Commission members indicated they were "going along" with the request for a lease only because the City Council in special session Friday morning granted a 50-year lease to radio station WDBC for continued occupancy of the Ludington Park area. The WDBC rental was $120 a year.

Compare Lease Terms
"That deal this morning brings you men in, too," said Planning Commission member Charles Gessner.

Councilman Jacob Bink, Council representative to the Planning Commission, replied the Council felt it would have been "very unfair" not to extend the WDBC lease and permit enlargement of the radio station at Sand Point.

"It would have been better for the city to take that building off their hands and get them out of there and into a more suitable location," said Gessner. "That would be better than to perpetuate a non-conforming use."

Pointing out that difference between the terms of the lease and rental to the two radio stations for city-owned land, L. M. Flemming, Planning Commission member, commented:

"M. & M. Broadcasting Company is paying too much for just a tower site and for a lease that can be terminated in six months."

Study Of Food Dollar Killed By Big Millers, Says Senator Douglas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) says "big millers and other food processors" were behind Congress' decision to kill his proposed study of what happens to the nation's food dollars.

In a transcribed broadcast yesterday, Douglas said "powerful interests" opposed such a study. He named these as "generally the big millers and other food processors" and said he did not think grocers and butchers were involved.

Douglas said the average family paid $5 less for meat in 1952 than in the year before, but farmers received $15 less. As to the other $10, he said, "Somebody in between is not only taking no loss but actually increasing his markup."

Chas. Hamilton, Rapid River, Dies

Charles E. Hamilton, 82, well-known Rapid River resident, was found dead of suffocation this morning in his home by Mrs. Florence Johnson, a neighbor, who made his breakfast each morning.

The mattress of Hamilton's bed had caught fire during the night. A relative explained he kept an electric light under his pillow, and would turn it on if he wanted to get up at night. It was assumed the light short-circuited and set fire to the mattress.

Hamilton, who lived alone since the death of his wife July 2, 1951, apparently got out of bed unburned and reached the next room, collapsing on the floor where Mrs. Johnson found him.

County Coroner Dr. Otto F. Hult of Gladstone, pronounced death due to suffocation, and said it probably occurred about 4 this morning.

Hamilton, who was born November 19, 1870, in Milan, Ind., graduated from Ferris Institute, Big Rapids, in 1890 with a pharmaceutical degree. He came to Delta County when he was 20, settling first in Gladstone and then moving to Rapid River where he established a drugstore.

In 1922 he retired from the drug business and settled on a farm near Rapid River. From time to time he filled in at drugstores in Gladstone, Escanaba, and Manistique.

He was a former Rapid River postmaster.

A son, Glenn, of Marquette, and a daughter, Mrs. James M. Young of Menominee, survive. Also surviving are 11 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

The body was taken to Alto funeral home. Funeral arrangements are not yet complete.

World In Need Of Good Deeds, Says Atty. Root

Good deeds that are the proof of peaceful intention is the world's need today, Atty John H. Root, Escanaba, told Memorial Day crowds at Ludington Park Saturday morning.

Atty Root spoke in connection with the annual Memorial Day observance sponsored by the American Legion with other veterans' organizations and the National Guard participating.

"We have fought in all wars hoping that a victory would bring peace," Atty Root said. "But we do not have peace in the world today."

"It is no secret that our greatest enemy is Russia and Communism and it is also no secret that we should be doing everything within our power to stop them — and at the same time in some way to show them that the only way to live is to live in peace."

The speaker reviewed the history of failure in efforts to negotiate a peace with the Russians, adding:

"There is now a change of strategy and not of heart. They now feel that to agree a little will lessen the tension, ease the fears, and cripple the West's armament program."

"The West's answer to this change in strategy is — 'Deeds, not Words.' Let them show us they are willing to talk disarmament, the main item holding up the peace."

"We are making inroads into the Russian plan and everything also should be done by the people in the United States to show the peoples of the world that we as an individual country will make great sacrifices to bring about peace."

"The tasks of the decade demand more than clever diplomats, first rate administrators, expert chiefs of staff. We need people who can raise their eyes to vision beyond immediate reality and translate those visions to the people in terms of their daily lives and their hopes for the future."

"President Eisenhower has announced America's willingness to lead in the historic work of worldwide reconstruction and use the money saved from reduced armaments on inspiring peacetime tasks. It is this thought is sustained and echoed we may yet gain the allegiance of the greater part of the world to the cause of dignity and freedom."

Chapekis Is Speaker At Rock Observance Of Memorial Day

Nick Chapekis, Delta County prosecuting attorney, reviewed the origin and meaning of Memorial Day at the annual Memorial Day service at the Rock cemetery Saturday.

Chapekis said that the first Memorial Day was May 30, 1868 when General Logan of the Union Army dedicated this day in memory of the war dead. States passed laws subsequently to observe Memorial Day and later it became a national holiday, Chapekis said.

He asked the people assembled to pause in recollection of their departed loved ones, commenting, "Remember them today for only the forgotten are truly dead."

Reds Threaten U. S. Education

"Some of you will be going on to college, some into the armed services, some directly into your life's work or career and some will be getting married, but all of you, as graduates must make some choice in setting out on your life's career. You must stop to consider what is happening all around us in our country," Rev. Fr. Stephen Schneider, O.F.M., pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, addressed the graduates at the annual baccalaureate service of the Escanaba High School last night.

He told the graduates and audience of the menacing threat of Communism in the country's spokes of education, and the methods that different states are undertaking to wipe away this threat. Father Schneider emphatically stated that more action against Communism must be taken, and that it isn't always the other fellow who should start this action, but each individual.

"Religion and education must work hand in glove," he stated when he spoke of the important correlation between the two. He said that what has been taught in schools must be tempered by that which is learned in churches and at home.

"Education becomes more meaningful when it is merged together with your education in religion," he stated.

He ended his speech by saying that God has planned your lives for you and that you never can be happy with a job if there is a selfish motive behind it.

The invocation and benediction was given by Rev. Gustav Lund, pastor of Bethany Lutheran Church.

"Sanctus" and "Hallelujah Amen," two selections, were sung by the high school A Cappella Choir under the direction of Miss Jean Bunks.

Wind Flattens Barns In Storm-Torn Garden Area

Winds of tornadic proportions swept a damaging 10-mile-wide path through the Garden Peninsula area at 8 p. m. Saturday, flattening barns, damaging orchard and shade trees, and ripping roofs off out-buildings.

The damage is estimated at more than $50,000 and includes loss of the following barns:

Two barns at the Elmer Bonifas farm, one barn each at the Leon Rochefort, Dave Thill and Orville Martin farms.

In addition there was much damage to orchards and shade trees. At Garden and Van's Harbor large trees were blown down in yards, roofs are damaged, and the electric power was off as result of the storm.

Thunder and lightning accompanied the violent winds that came suddenly out of the west with the darkening of the sky.

The wind-whipped area extended from north of Garden village south to Fayette, with the worst damage occurring in the vicinity of the village.

Shortly before the gale hit the wind shifted from the northeast to the south and then came around to the west with the full force of the wind blowing off Big Bay de Noc. Many forest trees along the shoreline were twisted and broken.

Some large trees were blown across the road and had to be cleared away by county road crews stationed at Garden.

South of Fayette there was little or no damage and the fishing fleet at Fairport was unharmed.

League Of Women Voters Helps To Inform The Voting Public

THE League of Women Voters is doing a commendable bit of public service in its sponsorship of a panel discussion of school problems at the Junior High School tonight.

The League has invited all of the candidates in the June 8 school election to attend the meeting and to answer specific questions on school problems. The candidates may appear in person to explain their position or, if they prefer, they can present prepared answers that will be read on their behalf at the meeting.

School board elections traditionally have been rather quiet affairs. As often as not, the positions on the board are uncontested.

This time there are seven candidates for the two trustee positions to be filled. The incumbent candidates themselves invited opposition to stimulate community interest in the schools.

The questions that have been submitted to the candidates are questions that concern the operation of the public schools in one way or another.

The League of Women Voters is a comparatively new organization in Escanaba but in the short time that it has been functioning here, it has performed a lot of good public service and particularly on election matters. It is a non-political organization devoted to community betterment. Its members are conscientious women who believe that women should be well informed on public matters. And in informing the women, it likewise follows that the League is also doing an excellent job in informing the men.

Rosenbergs Have Had Complete Justice

IF two criminals have ever had the full course of American justice, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, convicted A-bomb traitors, have had it.

They received a fair trial at which they were given every opportunity to defend themselves. And they have had appeal after appeal, to the Supreme Court, President Eisenhower and back again.

Now finally it appears they have run out their course. They will be executed in the electric chair of Sing Sing prison the week of June 15, according to the sentence of Federal Judge Irving Kaufman.

The Rosenbergs, however, still have one more possible escape from execution. They can tell all they know about the atom spy ring and they can tell who they are shielding. They have been all but promised a commutation of the death sentence if they will speak up.

The Rosenbergs deserve no special sympathy. They are traitors and their nefarious spying undoubtedly has lengthened the cold war. In a very definite way, they are responsible for the deaths of thousands of persons throughout the world, including the American soldiers killed in Korea.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

(Answers of general interest will be published.)

direct, directly—"Should direct or directly be used in the following sentence: 'Your order will be sent (direct, directly) to our Dallas office?'"—K. M. H., Waco, Texas.

Both direct and directly are adverbs, meaning, "in a direct manner; straightaway." It is largely a matter of personal choice which to use, but general custom calls for direct.

Candidate—E. M. K., Wentworth, Ga.—Candide, the name of the hero in the novel of the same name by Voltaire, is pronounced kahn-DEED.

singular or plural—H. R. N., Bay City, Mich.—Your question is on that crops up frequently in one form or another. The correct sentence is, "The horse is one of the most intelligent animals that live." The plural verb, live, is required, because the antecedent of that is animals, which is plural. You will see that such is the case by transposing the sentence—"Of the most intelligent animals that live the horse is one."

contractions—C. M., Redlands, Calif.—Precisionists in the use of grammar, such as some, not many, who deliver lectures before Women's Clubs, and a number of writers are painstakingly careful to avoid such contractions as aren't, weren't, can't, don't, doesn't, won't, and the like. Emphatically, they would not use ain't. Rarely will you see such contractions in newspapers. But in ordinary colloquial speech and writing and in fiction such contractions are not only permissible, but general. Except ain't. Many still condemn this American contraction in any usage. But they are a diminishing number. In my opinion, it is conversationally permissible when used with the pronoun I, especially in such a question as, "I'm going with you, ain't I, mother?" The grammatical, "am I not, mother?" would be intolerably stilted, and the use of the plural, "aren't I," aping the British "an't I," is intolerably ungrammatical.

The Doctor Says... Child Who Fears People Should Be Kept Calm

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. — Written for NEA Service

Fear is a strange thing and even the youngsters do not always avoid it.

Q—I have a three-year-old daughter who is afraid of people, and when a stranger walks in the house she runs away screaming. Is this just a habit and will she outgrow it, or what?

A—One would guess that this little girl had been frightened at some time by something which perhaps even the mother did not know about. Every effort should be made to keep her calm and unexcited and to gradually help her to get away from this habit.

Q—How much water should the average person take each day, and is it possible for the body to become waterlogged?

A—There is no absolute standard. I suppose for the average person from four to six glasses of water a day or the equivalent in other fluids would be enough. This would vary with age, with the amount of exercise, with the temperature of the outside air, and many other things. It is possible for a person to become waterlogged. Ordinarily this does not develop, providing the heart and kidneys are normal, since the latter will eliminate any excess fluid.

Q—A friend of mine had a baby in 1952. Her husband says it does not belong to him. Is there any definite way of proving the baby is his?

A—This question presumably refers to the use of blood types in so-called "paternity" tests. These tests cannot prove that a child is fathered by any one particular man. When properly employed they can be used to show, in some cases, that a particular man cannot have been the father of a particular child. Some courts accept evidence of this kind, at least in part.

Q—Whenever I have an open wound, even a paper cut or skinned ankle, the healing seems slow. Almost immediately after the injury a deep scab forms, underneath which is always an infection. After a few days the scab must be removed, leaving a deep hole which heals within a day or two. Do I have a deficiency or what is the trouble?

A—This is a peculiar kind of healing since one would not expect this to occur unless the object causing the injury carried germs into the wound. Perhaps this is what happens, and if such wounds are not too frequent and healing does come anyway, it should cause little concern.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Mayor Thomas D'Alessandro of Baltimore, who had an excellent record when in Congress, recently used his political position to get his draft-age son placed where he was not likely to be sent to Korea.

Thanks to the intervention of Senator John Butler of Maryland, young D'Alessandro was able to get transferred out of officers' training school, received an immediate commission and was assigned to the judge advocate general's office. This being the legal division of the army, its officers do not usually see combat. Young D'Alessandro is 23 years old.

Reached for comment at Camp Brechenridge, Ky., Lt. D'Alessandro admitted that he had been taken out of basic training at Indiantown Gap, Pa., and given a direct commission. He said he had just graduated from the University of Maryland law school and was entitled to it. Other questions he referred to the 2nd Army.

What happened was that the mayor of Baltimore first approached Senator Glenn Beall of Maryland, Republican, who declined to intervene for D'Alessandro Jr. However, Senator Butler, also a Republican, was more obliging. He talked to Gen. Miles Reber, the Army's Legislative representative on Capitol Hill, who got young D'Alessandro an immediate commission, had him taken out of basic training and arranged for assignment to the judge advocate general's office.

Senator Butler, when asked why he, a Republican, had pulled wires for a Democrat, said that the mayor was a friend of his and they had served together in the city government of Baltimore.

IKE'S SCRAPBOOK

It won't show up on the White House payroll, but President Eisenhower has assigned three government artists to bring his scrapbooks up to date.

They are Charles Barnes, borrowed from the Atomic Energy Commission, Robert Schulman, on loan from the Army comptroller's office, and Nino Belfiore, borrowed from the Army's Engineers.

The three artists went through seven scrapbooks, pasting in all Ike's documents since he was a second lieutenant and drawing artistic frames around them.

Of course, most taxpayers won't begrudge like the services of government artists to lay out his fancy scrapbooks, but in these days of economy, congressional economists don't like it. They point out that the President has the advantage of being able to borrow employees from any government agency without charging it against the White House budget.

STIFLING NATIONAL GUARD

It didn't hit the headlines, but there was a lot of griping among the governors when they gathered in Washington the other day for a report on the nation's problems. They were concerned over a secret proposal to stifle the national guard.

The matter came up when Undersecretary of Defense Roger Kyes appeared before the governors and was challenged by Governor William Marland of West Virginia regarding a secret memo circulated inside the Defense Department which would prevent National Guard units from enlisting 18-year-old youngsters.

"This would kill the National Guard," Governor Marland protested. Governor Lausche of Ohio, Governor Kennon of Louisiana, and Governor Clement of Tennessee were the most vigorous in backing him up.

Deputy Secretary Kyes tried to pacify the governors, said that the plan to stifle the National Guard was only a proposal. The Defense Department, he said was still studying it.

SECRET MEMO

Meanwhile, this column can reveal that Dr. John A. Hannah, who replaced Anna Rosenberg as the Defense Department's manpower boss, has drafted a confidential memo which he sent to the Army, Navy and Air Force, aimed at curtailing the National Guard.

"Sizeable numbers of draft-eligible young men are now being deferred from the draft by virtue of enlisting in a National Guard unit before attaining the age of 18 years and six months," he explained. "This is authorized under the Universal Military Training and Service act, following a proclamation by the governor of a state to the effect that his state units cannot be maintained by enlistments of personnel exempt from induction."

"If the secretary of defense announces a determination that trained personnel are available to enable the National Guard to maintain authorized strength, enlistment in a National Guard unit will no longer be ground for deferment," Dr. Hannah continued. "My office is of the opinion that the secretary of defense should now make the determination."

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Carnegie Public Library today rounds out 40 years of service to the people of Escanaba. Miss Adele Hessel is the present librarian.

Gladstone—John G. Jetty, student pastor at the First Lutheran Church, delivered an eloquent commemorative address at Memorial Day services conducted Sunday at Fernwood Cemetery.

Nahma—Members of the bridge club assembled at the home of Mrs. Nora Lester Thursday to celebrate her birthday, already passed.

20 YEARS AGO

Washington—General John J. Pershing in a Memorial Day address scoffed at proposals to have the United States lead the nations of the world in a disarmament program. He declared this nation already has practically disarmed while "certain European nations and some in Asia, are preparing for war."

Geneva—Germany refused today to accept an unfavorable League of Nations report on Germany's treatment of the Jews, and informed the League to keep "hands off" the question.

Manistique—Miss Margaret Needham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Needham of Manistique, has been honored at Northern State Teachers College where she was elected a member of Phi Kappa Nu.

"... However, the Doves Are Really Scoring!"

Russia Zig Zags:

Reds Sprout Peace; In Between They Reveal Their Real Aims

"COLLECTIVE DICTATORSHIP" in the Kremlin these days is named by Molotov, Beria and Malenkov (left to right). But it's head-man Malenkov who charts the present zig-zag course.

By LEON DENNEN

PARIS—(NEA)—Russia is making a new "peace" declaration about once every 40 hours, but in between these overtures the Kremlin goes on disclosing with amazing frankness that its basic goals are still world Communist revolution and conquest.

Actually, the "peace" efforts themselves often reveal an unchanged Soviet purpose. The Reds have long wanted a Big Power conference at the highest level. But they want it to:

1. Bolster the prestige of Premier Malenkov's still uncertain regime.

2. Gain a new platform for sounding off their propaganda.

3. Stress the differences that exist among the Western allies. (On this point, a recent Pravda editorial criticized the scheduled Big Three meeting at Bermuda, insisting Russia will meet Britain, France and the U. S. in conference only if they have not previously agreed upon a common policy.)

Although Kremlin "rule" since Stalin's death has been reconstituted into a sort of "collective dictatorship" with the three chief would-be dictators (Malenkov, Beria and Molotov) furiously watching each other, Malenkov is considered the pilot for the present zig-zag Soviet foreign policy course.

For instance, Malenkov is essentially a faithful follower of Stalin and his ideas are known to differ little from either Stalin's or Lenin's. Recently the new premier's views on war, peace and "co-existence" were explained in a long article printed in "Questions of Philosophy"—Moscow's journal of Marxist philosophy.

The author, I. A. Seleznev, is ostensibly a leading Marxist scholar. He makes it quite clear that the "victory of communism" and "world revolution" remain the basic dogma of the new Soviet rulers.

Seleznev's 25-page "essay" sets down these points in interpreting Malenkov's strategy:

1. Communists believe war will become "impossible" only with the "destruction of capitalism and the victory of communism throughout the world."

2. Communists are Marxist realists. They are able—at every historical period—to "adapt their policy, strategy and tactics" to the prevailing international situation.

3. Co-existence does not indicate a basic change in Soviet policy.

Lenin and Stalin repeatedly spoke of the "possibility of coexistence." But Seleznev is quite frank in stating that the "peaceful co-existence" between capitalism and communism is now preached by the Kremlin in no meant to last forever.

It is only intended, he writes, for a "more or less lengthy" historical period. How long a period he does not say. But he leaves no doubt that the destruction of Western civilization—capitalism in Red lingo—stands as the basic policy of Moscow and world communism.

Russia's zig-zag foreign policies since the death of Stalin are as confusing to Western Communists as they are to Western diplomats. Even die-hard members of the Cominform are puzzled by the Kremlin's new "line."

Reds in East Germany recently were told to refrain from calling Western capitalists dirty names—until further notice. Favorites like "capitalist slaveowners," "imperialist bloodsuckers," and the like are strictly forbidden now.

Even the Paris "Humanite" and Rome's "Unita"—Moscow's most vituperative Western mouthpieces—have turned over a new leaf. They are amazingly polite these days.

Despite surface appearances, however, there seems to be no basic change in Soviet propaganda. And this is what puzzles faithful Western Reds the most.

Americans no longer are called

"de-humanized Western bandits," but the official Cominform newspaper still rants about "Fascist police terror" in the United States.

In Moscow, the Kremlin is soft-pedaling the "war danger." Malenkov and Molotov are encouraging Russians—and of course the people of the West—to believe in the possibility of "peaceful co-existence" between communism and capitalism.

But in their broadcasts to the Red Army forces, Russian continue to whip up hatred and suspicion against the "capitalist world."

Moscow goes on arming the satellites to the teeth, according to Allied intelligence reports. Soviet-inspired and Red-led armed "revolutionary action" continues unabated in Indo-China, Malaya, Iran and elsewhere in Asia and the Middle East.

Cominform agents continue to sow chaos and confusion—from Berlin to Tokyo and back.

Said Moscow's Pravda recently about the "colonial struggle" in the East: "The fight for national liberation in colonial countries is becoming increasingly energetic. Peoples are marching resolutely to their goals."

As an old French proverb says, "Plus ca change, plus c'est la meme chose." Little seems to have changed. The Russians now talk softly. But they go on acting tough.

THAT STATE PARK—Several years ago the Michigan Department of Conservation was on the verge of recommending to the legislature that money be appropriated to purchase the Fayette area as a state park site.

Surveys were completed by the Department and Glenn Greg, Winn, regional state park chief, was enthusiastic. But the legislature would not meet until January and the owner of the most desirable part of the area announced sale of his land to Miss Gladys Edwards, Detroit.

Now there is a "For Sale" sign on the Fayette property and Miss Edwards' intention to develop the property as a summer resort apparently has been abandoned.

Is it too late for the state to pick up the project where it left off several years ago?

GIVEN SUPPORT—The proposed state park at Fayette at that time received the whole-hearted support of the Delta County Board of Supervisors and the Chambers of Commerce of Escanaba and Gladstone.

Fayette's fine harbor, its good fishing, sand beach to the south of the harbor, impressive scenery, the ruins of old iron smelters, and the history dating back to Civil War days combine to make it most attractive to visitors.

The location is ideal for a state park in the Upper Peninsula. The nearest state park on Lake Michigan to the east is at the Straits of Mackinac, and to the west the nearest state park is in Menominee county on Green Bay.

Fayette centers a scenic peninsula, is 12 miles off the rush and roar of US-2 highway traffic, and with development would become one of the most popular parks in Northern Michigan.

LOOKING AHEAD—Should Fayette not be available to the state at a reasonable price, the state has the opportunity to acquire other locations on the Garden Peninsula almost as desirable.

At the time it was considering Fayette as a park site, the state surveyed another area a few miles farther north on the peninsula. It comprises miles of shore line on three small bays—South River, LaComb and Gouley's. One of the bays has a fine sand beach.

Within this area is all of the natural advantages to be found at Fayette, less Fayette's history and its more dramatic scenery.

But the South River-LaComb-Gouley bay area does have good fishing, beautiful woodlands, rock bluffs, swimming beach, and because of its isolation a great variety of wildlife.

WHERE ON LIST?—Is the Garden Peninsula area still on the conservation department's list of recommended sites for state parks? Where does it stand on a priority list? Are other locations being given consideration at this time?

These are questions the Delta County Board of Supervisors, the local Chambers of Commerce, and the people of Delta county would be interested in having answered.

For the Fayette area was surveyed and approved several years ago and if such prior action means anything that location should be at or near the top of the state park priority list for Northern Michigan.

SERVING THE MOST—One of the most popular parks, from the standpoint of attendance, is Fort Wilkins State Park at the tip of the Keweenaw Peninsula.

The Fayette area is most similar to Fort Wilkins in possessing those factors of scenic beauty and historical interest which attract visitors.

In addition it has the advantage of being more readily accessible to the largest number of people. The greatest volume of traffic in the Upper Peninsula flows east and west on Highway US-2, from which Fayette is only 18 miles distant over a scenic drive.

The possibility of developing a scenic circle route into Fayette, starting at Thompson on US-2 thence along the shore of Lake Michigan to Fairport and Fayette and then heading back to US-2 on the present road, should not be overlooked. Much of the route would be through lands already owned by the state.

While it is too late to turn back the hands of time to the day when Fayette was offered for sale to the state, it is not too late to ask the state if it is still interested in such a project—now the property has "For Sale" signs on it.

New Skin Test Tells True Sex In Babies

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
NEW YORK (AP)—A skin test to tell true sex was reported today at the opening of the American Medical Association's annual convention.

It tells whether a baby of mixed sex, or hermaphrodite, is really a boy or girl. It takes a new kind of look at cells taken from the skin or bone-marrow of the infant, to see if the cells are male or female in their heredity.

The answer tells whether the child should be made into and reared as a boy, or as a girl.

Chromosomes Are Clue
This method, plus others promising new cell clues to cancer, mental illness, and allergies, was described by Dr. C. M. Pomerat, of the University of Texas, Galveston. Sometimes babies are born having both male and female characteristics. Their true sex is in doubt and tragedies come because they are wrongly reared as boy or girl.

They may have one female sex gland—an ovary to produce eggs—and one male sex gland—a testis to produce sperm. The question is, are they predominantly boy or girl?

The answer can be had by looking at the chromosomes of ordinary body cells. Each cell of the body contains chromosomes, the necklace-shaped structures carrying the genes or units of heredity.

Seats In Airlines To Face Backward As Safety Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's first commercial passenger service with rearward-facing seats is being inaugurated today by North American Airlines.

The company, a non-scheduled airline, said a DC4 Douglas Sky-master 79-passenger air coach is due to stop at Kansas City and Chicago and arrive in New York at 2:30 p. m. (EST) after a morning takeoff from Los Angeles.

The company said the backs of the specially designed seats will support the head and body to minimize effects of any accident. Other four engine planes of the line will be converted to the new seating arrangement, it said.

Washington Workers Told To Shed Coats

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Commerce Department has come out for masculine working comfort in Washington's hot summers.

A formal memorandum to employees yesterday said short sleeved shirts, without neckties, will be acceptable this summer.

There was no immediate indication whether the trend toward informality would spread. Many government agencies in past years have frowned on the shedding of coats, no matter what the heat or humidity.

The Red broadcast, head by the Associated Press in San Francisco, said aged Fu-tsai still has good hearing and keen sight, can walk 18 miles a day and won an award for planting trees around his home village of Shinshan in Kirin province.

There's a difference between the male and female chromosomes in any cell. Male cells contain two chromosomes of unequal length. In females, the sex chromosomes form an identical pair.

Cells Kept Alive
Dr. T. C. Hsu, an associate of Dr. Pomerat, discovered a way of making tightly packed chromosomes inside a cell separate, so they can be seen clearly, and be counted and examined. Hsu found the chromosomes will spread out if there is no, or little salt in the fluid which is added to cells to keep them alive.

A look at the chromosomes in skin or bone-marrow cells can then tell a surgeon whether he should remove the ovary of testis of the doubtful-sex baby to make the child a complete boy or complete girl, to give the infant the best chance for a happy, normal life.

This is just one possibility in amazing research by Dr. Pomerat and associates.

He can take any kind of human body cells, and keep them alive and growing in glass flasks. He can take motion pictures, under a microscope, to see what happens inside these fantastically tiny engines of all life. New differences may be found between cancer cells and healthy cells.

Answer For Allergies
The movies are made by snapping one picture every few minutes, then running off this film at ordinary motion picture speed. The events taking two hours to happen inside a cell are seen within one minute.

One study could give new answers to control of allergies and asthma. Cells taken from inside the human nose are kept alive inside glass flasks. Then some hay-feverish pollen is added to the fluid. The nose cells go into violent, protesting reactions. The scientists hope to learn why and how they react, how their protests can be controlled to relieve allergies or asthma.

Nerve cells taken from human brains can be kept alive in this same way, to look for differences in brain cells of healthy persons and those mentally sick.

Movies of nerve cells show that a kind of glue for nerve cells actually has a rhythmic, pulsating activity. Why these nerve components have this action is not yet clear.

Don't 'Finger' Blemished Skin

By ALICIA HART

Teen-agers, have you noticed that girls who fiddle with their hair and faces are often the ones with unattractive scalp and complexion conditions?

You carry bacteria to your skin, whether on face or scalp, whenever you finger it. Your skin already has bacteria on its surface, simply from contact with the air, but it does a good job of preventing blemishes if you cooperate. Don't add to its burden by giving it germs from your finger tips.

Cooperation with your skin means washing it twice a day with a neutral soap and water. It means getting enough sleep and eating a balanced diet, with no undue emphasis on carbohydrates and fats. It means keeping combs and brushes, towels and washcloths sanitary. Never borrow those of anyone else.

If you should be unfortunate enough to develop a blemish or two, leave it alone until it's ready to be squeezed antiseptically. Fussing with it will enlarge the area of infection and may leave a scar. Scratching your scalp can do the same. Find out the cause of the itching—it may be dryness or the need for a shampoo—and overcome it.

Even a perfectly smooth skin may develop blemishes if a girl can't keep her hands away from it. So, beware of any tendency to twiddle with curls or rub your skin as you concentrate on other things.

The Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes in Alaska, part of a national monument set up by President Wilson, was formed after the eruption of Mt. Katmai in 1912.

Widow, 15, Freed In Murder Case

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Pretty Patsy Lou King, a bride at 14 and a widow at 15, has turned homeward to West Virginia after being cleared of murder charges in her husband's death.

Juvenile Court Judge Talbot Ellis released the young mother Thursday after a hearing during which she sobbed, "I loved my husband dearly."

She had been free in $750 bond since shortly after the fatal shooting of airman James R. King, 21, at their home here three weeks ago. He was stationed at the Birmingham Air Base.

Mrs. King has a 5-month-old daughter, Kathy, and is expecting another child. The shooting occurred during a scuffle after some milk was spilled on Kathy's face while the mother was feeding her daughter. The pale young widow testified that she became hysterical and her husband attempted to restrain her. She said they struggled over a pistol he kept in their bedroom.

The young widow returned to Macon, W. Va., with her father, the Rev. Absalom Mahoney, and other relatives who came here to aid in her defense.

She and King met in the church where the Rev. Mahoney is pastor and her husband's father is Sunday School superintendent. The young sweethearts ran away and were married.

Pentagon Gets Chance To Talk On Budget Cuts

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon's top command, including Secretary of Defense Wilson and the retiring chiefs of staff, gets a chance to speak up publicly this week in the dispute over military cutbacks.

All will appear before the Senate appropriations subcommittee conducting hearings on President Eisenhower's proposal to trim five billion dollars from former President Truman's new defense money request for the year starting July 1.

Fireworks Expected

Many Democrats and some Republicans in Congress have voiced opposition to the reduction, but Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.), a veteran of such money battles, predicts Eisenhower will have his way.

Wilson, at whom most of the opposition's criticism has been heaped, has asked for a chance to explain in public the reasons behind the cutback decision. Some critics have called for Wilson's resignation and demanded to know what role the Joint Chiefs played in reaching the decision today.

Leadoff witnesses today are Adm. William M. Fechteler, retiring Navy chief, and Secretary of the Navy Anderson.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, outgoing Army chief, and Secretary of the Army Stevens are scheduled to testify tomorrow. Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, stepping out as Air Force chief, and Secretary of the Air Force Talbot testify Wednesday in a session expected to provide the most fireworks.

Wilson Explains

Wilson and Under Secretary of Defense Roger M. Kyes are slated to appear Thursday.

Most of the congressional criticism has centered upon proposals to cut new funds for the Air Force by five billion dollars and reduce its mid-1955 goal from 143 to 120 combat wings of 30 to 75 airplanes each.

In data released Saturday, the Defense Department said that even with this reduction the Air Force would get the equivalent of another jet fighter wing in the next 1½ years. But it said the program will trim out 1,150 noncombat planes.

New funds for the Navy were cut about a billion dollars, but Wilson said nearly 10 billions of new appropriations, plus unspent funds, would give the Navy a total of more than 40 billions.

Of this, Wilson said about 11 billions would be spent in the fiscal year that begins July 1, adding this should provide about 408 warships and 16 carrier groups.

Wilson said the Army would continue to have 20 divisions, 18 regimental combat teams and 117 anti-aircraft battalions by expenditure of about 16 billion dollars in the next fiscal year.

The Eisenhower budget gave the Army about a billion more of new funds which, with unspent previous funds added, total above 30 billions.

Korea Truce Crisis Will Be Topic Today In Security Council

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special meeting of the National Security Council gave President Eisenhower an opportunity to discuss with his top military and foreign policy advisers today the critical problem posed by South Korea's rejection of the latest truce terms submitted to the Communists in Korea.

A threat by Syngman Rhee's government to break up any armistice reached on United Nations terms as presented to the Reds a week ago threw gloom over what flickering hopes existed that an end to the fighting might be achieved.

civilian volunteers responded to a report that four convicts escaped from Marquette were in the area, Sheriff William Miron said. Sheriff Miron estimated that 100 people were present, most of them armed. He said the whole area was surrounded. "It was sewed up," the sheriff described the scene. "Everywhere you could see there was somebody with a rifle, or a car blocking the road."

The sheriff's department, Michigan State Police, Gladstone City Police, and the Michigan Conservation Department patrolled the area, the sheriff said.

The tense search went on all afternoon, ending only at 7 p. m. when it was discovered that three innocent fishermen had been the cause of the alarm.

In Escanaba at 4 a. m. Saturday police chased a suspect and fired three shots into the air as the man fled into an alley near Second Ave. S. and 16th St.

All Wiles of Escanaba reported the suspect to police and assisted in the chase. Police reported they saw the man in doorways along Ludington and later Wiles grappled with the man near the place where the police shot into the air. Police said the description given by Wiles was similar to the one of the four convicts.

At 8 a. m. police were called to St. Francis Hospital where a prowler had been reported seen on the lawn.

But it appeared to be a virtual certainty that the truce situation would come up for discussion at the meeting of the government's top foreign-military planning body, headed by the President.

Dulles will report to the public on the trip which he and Stassen made. His department described as a major foreign policy pronouncement the speech Dulles planned tonight (8 p. m., EST) over ABC radio and television and over Du Mont television networks, with a rebroadcast by NBC (9:30 p. m.) and possibly others in different time zones.

Dulles, Secretary of Defense Wilson and Gen. J. Lawton Collins, the Army chief of staff, conferred Saturday with Eisenhower, declining to give details, the White House said the session was devoted to Korea.

Fighting For Unity
South Korea's ambassador, You Chan Yang, declared on an NBC television interview yesterday that his country will "go it alone" if a truce is reached which leaves Korea divided. He said U. S. efforts to enforce compliance with such a truce would be "tragic and short-sighted."

"When a thief comes and kills your wife and family," he asked, "do you punish him, or do you just tell him: 'Stay over there?'"

Noting that the U. S. and the United Nations are on record as favoring a united Korea, Yang said agreement on anything less would mean that the Communists have "definitely won the war."

After reaching Door County the planes follow the west shore of Lake Michigan to Chicago, LaPine said.

Miller is married but has no children. His Chicago address was unknown to LaPine.

"He may be down among the islands somewhere," LaPine said. The Coast Guard and private planes were searching in that area and Coast Guard stations along the shore of Lake Michigan had been alerted.

Search Unsuccessful
After searching the island area and cruising over the Garden Peninsula today Fred Sensiba returned to Escanaba to report that he had been unable to sight anything resembling a wrecked plane.

"I flew for 125 miles over the islands and around the Garden Peninsula," Sensiba said. "It is a big area, though, and it would be possible to miss seeing something."

Sensiba said the weather yesterday was bad for flying. Clouds were low and unless a pilot was skilled in instrument flying it would have been possible for him to lose his way and fly out into Lake Michigan or over Green Bay.

Farther south, from Wisconsin on into Chicago, the sky was clear yesterday. Miller apparently had trouble getting out of the Northern Michigan overcast or he would have been able to find his way from Wisconsin on into Chicago.

NEW YORK (AP)—Some railroad shares showed strength, but industrials were mostly lower in the stock market today.

In the first two hours, only 310,000 shares changed hands.

Some sources suggested the market was awaiting developments in both the international field and at home. Hearings in Washington on the administration proposal to extend the excess profits tax were being watched closely.

U. S. Steel was up fractionally although other steel shares were lower. Motors and metal stocks were lower.

Higher industrial stocks included Goodyear, Goodrich, National Distillers, Philco, Homestake Mining, International Nickel, Sinclair, Texas Company, and Loew's. Lower were Sears Roebuck, Radio Corp., Union Carbide, American Woolen and International Paper.

Government bonds were lower.

Total 41,988 In May
BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin's refugee headquarters said today that 41,988 East Germans asked for political asylum in the Allied-occupied part of the city in May.

This was the second highest monthly total recorded in the refugee flow so far. It included 321 members of the Soviet zone's Communist police force, among them 17 officers.

The total number of refugees registered in West Berlin since Jan. 1 now is 191,507.

Rift Over Latest Armistice Offer Widens In Korea

North Korean prisoners who refuse to return to communism.

Although the Allied plan never has been released officially, South Korean sources say it proposes this for the reluctant prisoners, including also 14,500 Chinese.

Turn them over to a five-nation commission headed by India for a 90-day "explanation" period by the Communists. If some still refuse to return, a post-armistice political conference would discuss their fate, and if the conference can't settle it, the question would be turned over to the U. N. General Assembly.

Maj. Gen. Choi Duk Shin, South Korea's truce delegate, boycotted Monday's session in embittered opposition to the proposal, and later released the text of a letter which included part of the official record of the meeting. He had written Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr., Senior Allied delegate, to protest the plan.

Choi's letter revealed that the Reds rejected outright part of the proposal—turning over the North Koreans to the U. N. However, the extension asked by the Reds indicated they were still considering the offer and may be awaiting a high decision, from Peiping or possibly Moscow.

Washington sources said the Eisenhower message to Rhee made these points:

1. Threats or criticism will not keep the U. S. from seeking a truce on "honorable terms."

2. Security of U. S. and U. N. forces in Korea must be a determining factor in any situation that might develop, and is a primary concern of Washington.

3. The U. S. is ready as in the past to support South Korea with military, political and economic aid.

It was reported that U. S. Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs delivered the message in one of three visits with Rhee in less than a week. Briggs refused to confirm or deny that.

South Korean informants said the fiery, 78-year-old Rhee wrote a reply personally with the help of his Austrian-born wife and Pyun, but the text could not be learned.

RHEE WANTS PLEDGE
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Syngman Rhee reportedly has proposed that President Eisenhower sign a four-point agreement pledging a mutual defense pact and future military and financial help to South Korea if the Seoul government is to drop its opposition to the United Nations truce terms.

Rhee's attitude—and what reply should be made to his proposition—presumably was up for discussion at a special meeting of the National Security Council Eisenhower called at the White House.

An authoritative informant said the South Korean President submitted his program in a message sent to Eisenhower through American Ambassador Ellis Briggs in Seoul.

The four points which Rhee insisted Eisenhower must agree upon in advance were reported to be:

1. A pledge to sign a mutual defense pact with Korea guaranteeing the United States will come to Korea's aid in the event the Communists attack again once a truce has been signed. The U. S. was asked to promise prompt aid regardless of what the United Nations might do in the event of such an attack.

2. A promise by the United States to undertake continued large scale military and economic aid to South Korea.

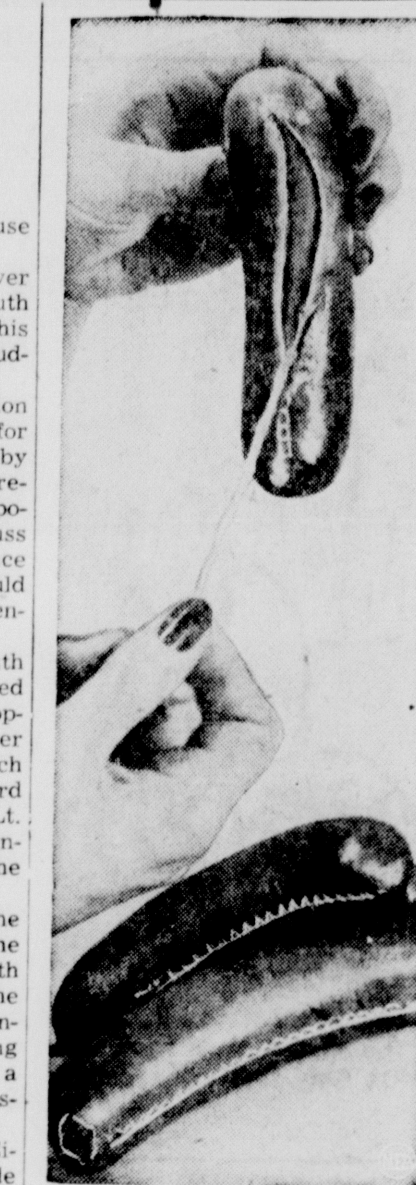

3. Simultaneous withdrawal of all foreign forces, including Communist and United Nations troops, once truce arrangements are completed and prisoners exchanged.

4. Agreement by the United States that it and the United Nations will not try to stop South Korea from uniting the country once a truce has been agreed upon.

IT'S A-PEELING—Even the lowly hot dog has been improved by science. On view in New York is the latest innovation—a frankfurter with a zipper. Those who prefer a skinless hot dog just pull the zipper that cleaves the casing for easy peeling off.

Excess Profits Tax Arguments Make Air Blue

the years between World War II and the start of the Korean War, the years 1946 through 1949, inclusive. Many businessmen claim those years were not normal for them. Some, for instance, say they were just starting in business.

Firm XYZ, trying to determine its average earnings in those pre-Korean years, can choose any three of the four. Naturally, it selects the three most prosperous years to make its post-Korean profits as low, or unexcessive, as possible over its pre-Korean profits.

XYZ's earnings in 1946 were $100,000 but $200,000 a year from 1947 through 1949. So it chose those three years—in this case $200,000 a year—as its average pre-Korean earnings.

But the law doesn't let a firm claim the full average, only 85 per cent.

Most firms use method No. 2 because it happens to work out best for most. Some use still a third method when it gives an even lower tax.

Based On Investment
Method No. 3—This is based on invested capital. Say firm XYZ had two million dollars invested in its plant at the beginning of the year. Under the law XYZ takes 12 per cent of the two million dollars, which is $240,000. This is called an excess profits credit, or money that can be deducted from a firm's earnings before it can be hit with the EPT.

XYZ deducts the $240,000 from its 1952 earnings of $300,000. Result: $60,000. Then XYZ applies

Medical Draft To Be Extended

WASHINGTON (AP)—Quick Senate approval seemed assured for a two-year extension of authority to draft physicians, dentists and veterinarians until July 1, 1955.

Acting Majority Leader Knowland (R-Calif.) said passage would be followed by a Senate recess until Monday.

The House has passed the two-year extension of the doctor draft. The Senate Armed Services Committee made two changes Wednesday before sending the bill on to the Senate.

One amendment would continue the $100 a month extra pay now going to all physicians and dentists who volunteer to accept commissions as officers. The committee also voted the extra $100 monthly above pay of other officers for veterinarians after July 1.

The other Senate change would cut down the required service of the medical officers, depending on prior military service.

Since 1950 all professional medical men, up to 50 years old, have been required to register with local draft boards for possible induction.

Actually very few doctors and dentists have been inducted, less than 50 out of 13,500 called to duty. Those subject to duty are allowed to apply for officers' commissions.

Pentagon officials estimate that during the next two years the services will require 7,707 physicians, 4,552 dentists and 376 veterinarians.

Evanston, Ill., And Connecticut Cited For Traffic Safety

CHICAGO (AP)—Connecticut and Evanston, Ill., were named grand award winners Friday in the National Safety Council's 1952 national traffic safety contest.

It was the sixth national grand prize for Connecticut and the fourth for Evanston. No traffic deaths were reported in 1952 in Evanston, a suburb of Chicago with a population of about 75,000.

No other city or state has won as many grand awards as Evanston and Connecticut. Connecticut previously won top state honors in 1940, 1944, 1946, 1947 and 1949. Grand award honors were won by Evanston in 1932, 1933 and 1935.

Forty-five states and 750 counties participated in the contest. Nine other states and 24 other cities were awarded divisional honors.

House Won't Expand Flood Control And Waterways Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—If the Eisenhower administration's first flood control and waterways program is to be expanded appreciably, the Senate will have to do it—the House has flatly declined.

The House Wednesday beat back amendment after amendment which sought to add a total of nearly 41 million dollars to the civil functions bill.

As passed by the House, the bill carries a total of $416,391,000 for the year starting July 1. Of this $399,284,100 is for flood control and navigation projects.

Former President Truman recommended $661,524,100 for flood control and navigation in his budget last January. President Eisenhower in April revised this downward to $479,490,100.

Compulsory Treatment Of Narcotics Addicts Proposed In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plan for compulsory treatment of narcotics addicts, to be presented by Congress, was formulated Thursday by a committee of the National Association of Attorneys General. The committee, headed by Atty. Gen. Nathaniel L. Goldstein of New York, said in a statement that the rising rate of drug addiction prompted the proposal for compulsory treatment under federal-state supervision.

Under the plan, the federal narcotics hospitals at Lexington, Ky., and Ft. Worth, Tex., would be used for the basic period of hospitalization, after which the states would assume care and treatment of patients.

Secret Service Seeks Extension Of Legal Death Threat Penalty

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury says there should be legal penalties for threats against a president elect and the vice president.

Present law makes it a crime to threaten the life or to inflict bodily harm on the President.

Acting Secretary of the Treasury Chapman Rose, in a letter to House Speaker Joseph Martin (R-Mass) yesterday, said addition of the president-elect and vice president to the law would aid the Secret Service.

Without naming any incidents, he said the Secret Service had been hampered in the past in probing the few threats against the president-elect and vice president.

Tighter Laws Urged To End Tax Dodging Of U. S. Movie Stars

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) urged yesterday that tax laws be tightened to prevent movie stars from avoiding U. S. income taxes by living and working abroad.

He said present law exempts citizens working abroad for 17 out of 18 months from taxes "on the income earned abroad."

"Adopted primarily to aid technicians, skilled workmen, managers, etc., to go abroad... actors and actresses have, however, also taken advantage of it," Mansfield told the Senate.

Mansfield mentioned Gene Kelly, Claudette Colbert, Errol Flynn and Gary Cooper as among those he contended are "said to be taking advantage of the provision."

Some stars, he said, "concede the tax-saving purpose in their foreign travel but others deny a definite tie-in."

Over 20,000 Children Born By Artificial Insemination Yearly

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 20,000 children a year are estimated born in the United States as a result of artificial insemination.

This was brought out Thursday at the first World Congress on fertility and sterility by Dr. Abraham Stone, director of the Margaret Sanger Research Bureau.

He said an estimated 10,000 children were born of women impregnated with the sperm from a donor in cases where the husband was sterile.

He gave no estimate of the total born through artificial insemination of the husband's own sperm, but said these cases amounted to 80 or 70 per cent of all medically controlled inseminations.

This would make the total more than 20,000.

Lansing Postmaster 42 Years To Retire

LANSING (AP)—Severance E. Bellows, assistant Lansing postmaster, has announced plans for retirement and said the postal service hasn't changed much in 42 years.

Severance has been handling mail since 1911. Horse drawn mail delivery carts were still used when he first entered the postal service.

"The real work of the postoffice hasn't changed much though," he said. "They still haven't invented a machine that can read mail, determine where it should go, and put it in the right slot."

Straits Bridge Upkeep All Set

LANSING (AP)—Governor Williams Friday signed a legislative bill which permits the state to contribute financially to the proposed $96,000,000 Straits bridge bond issue.

The measure authorizes the State Highway Department to contribute $417,000 a year for maintenance and upkeep of the bridge if the bonds are sold before Dec. 31 of this year.

This contribution was suggested by bond houses as a token of state support for the bond issue.

Williams said the bill "brings us so much closer to our goal of spanning the Straits of Mackinac. The individuals, organizations and legislators of both parties who contributed to the passage of this bill deserve the commendation of the people of Michigan."

Church Growing

ELIZABETH the Queen

By Marion Crawford

Former Governor to Her Majesty

XXIII

The year round there is something, somewhere, who has something that would be helped by Royal patronage. Lengths of tweed, wool, silk rayon cotton of new design and texture, millions of lengths, are considered every day as an offering to her, for it is known that her acceptance will create a boom in the particular product.

All that is offered is not accepted. The Queen wants to know all the details of anything that she is offered; who made it, and why, and if her acceptance is likely on the one hand to show undue favoritism, or, on the other, to inspire productivity that will materially help this country and the Empire.

In the case of textiles that are accepted, these are not always immediately made up into suits or coats. They are ticketed and stored against the day when she may need them.

But what a temptation it must be if a particularly beautiful length of tweed is offered to her, of which she would like to have a suit, to have to forego it because to have it made up would necessitate a completely new range of accessories, and that is an extravagance upon which she must not embark.

Must Set Example
After all, she must set an example, and since early childhood both Princesses were taught by their mother and grandmother that nothing must be wasted.

You and I have a choice in the matter. If it suits us to sell for a mere song the good brown handbag we bought last winter and the shoes that go with it because we've seen a much nicer outfit in blue and want entirely new accessories, we're at liberty to do as we like about it, and no one any the wiser.

And perhaps, every now and again, a piece of seemingly wild extravagance is the birthright of every woman if she enjoys it and feels better and smarter for having thrown her old shoes and bag over the windmill.

But not for the Queen. The particularly heady pleasure, which is never understood by men, but always by other women, will always be denied to her.

So, too, are other such temperamental escapes and outbursts. The wild pleasure of using the whole of one week's egg rations the first week that eggs become less scarce on a mouth-watering cake, and spending the whole of Saturday afternoon singing away in the kitchen as it bakes, is a feminine delight so natural, so normal, that few of us stop for a moment to think about the privacy and the liberty in our own homes, and rejoice that we were not born to a rank that denies its holder so simple a womanly pleasure as this.

Some Compensations
As against the more simple pleasures which just do not occur in the life of a Queen, there are, you may think, tremendous compensations. Such as her beautiful jewels which seem to sparkle even more brightly against the warmth and texture of her lovely skin.

Imagine having jewel cases full of the most exquisite diamonds, rubies, emeralds and pearls, so that there is something to suit every dress, every occasion, you might think!

But think again. Can there be

Queen Elizabeth wears a diamond tiara which belonged to Queen Victoria, her great-great-grandmother much pleasure in having so many? Isn't there infinitely more joy in the small, intimate, semi-precious stone, chosen with tremendous care especially for you to match your eyes, to enhance your skin, rather than a load of Crown jewels which you might not care for?

Some women dislike emeralds, others say sapphires do not suit them, and there are women who will never wear diamonds at all, saying they are too hard. In this again the Queen has no personal choice. If a public occasion warrants the sparkle of diamonds, on they must go whether she likes them or not, and often a matching tiara which is a heavy, cumbersome tiresome thing for a young girl to have to wear throughout an evening.

She has one tiara which she especially loves. It is an exquisite thing made of diamonds in the form of delicate margarites. It can be taken apart and worn as a necklace, two clips and a bracelet, and when she unpacked it she was delighted. Later, showing it to me, she exclaimed, with eyes as bright as the diamonds she was holding: "Isn't it a lovely thing, Crawford?"

Love Is Basis Of Patriotism

Patriotism, symbolized for Americans in "the silken folds of the Stars and Stripes", is founded on love—love of God, love of country—the Rev. F. M. Scheringer, pastor of St. Francis de Sales Church, said in speaking at annual Memorial Day services here Saturday morning.

Patriotism is the source of all the joys of life, and from its opposite flow the griefs that scar mankind, the speaker continued. Nations rose to greatness by following love's path as exemplified by patriotism, and conversely have sunk to ruin when the flame of patriotism died, he said.

Love of home, days at school, the friendships of youth—these are all part of the developing pattern of patriotism which is identified with consecrated laws, the past speaking to the present, and the present laboring toward the future, the Rev. Scheringer said.

The speaker described the burial of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington cemetery in 1921 and told of the great hope then sweeping mankind that the last war had been fought.

"Yet, in 1953, we see again the nations generating the causes that produced World Wars I and II," the speaker said. "We see everlastingly a Prince of Peace crowned with thorns and led up Calvary; everlastingly Christ crucified between the thieves of hate and greed."

The speaker was introduced by O. J. Schuster, master of ceremonies. Invocation was voiced by the Rev. Edgar Smith of the First Methodist Church and the benediction was given by the Rev. Paul Sobel of the Presbyterian Church. Musical selections were presented by the Manistique high school band and the Manistique Municipal Band.

Because of inclement weather the program was conducted in the high school auditorium.

Preceding the speaking ceremony a traditional Memorial Day parade was held, with salutes of tribute being fired at the World War I monument at the intersection of River and E. Elks streets and the Spanish-American War Memorial on N. Cedar St., near Hall stadium.

The observance was conducted under auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion and Disabled American Veterans.

Professional Code Of Physicians Discussed In Article By Herbert

The attitude of the law as it relates to the physician's professional code of honor is discussed by J. Joseph Herbert, Manistique attorney, in an article, "Does the Law Seal the Doctor's Mouth?" published in the April issue of the Michigan State Bar Journal and the Journal of the Michigan State Medical Society.

In an editorial note about the author, the state bar journal says: "Council for the Michigan State Medical Society, J. Joseph Herbert has contributed articles of medical-legal interest to the Journal of that organization. In practice at Manistique, where he is a senior member of Herbert, Wood and Hood, the author was educated at the University of Michigan (B.S. 1915; law 1917). He is a past State Commander of the American Legion (1925-26), a past president of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau (1939-40), and a former legal advisor to the Governor of Michigan (1944-45). He is a Regent of the University of Michigan, having served in that capacity since 1939."

Refers To Hippocratic Oath
In introducing his discussion, the author refers to the oath of Hippocrates, a Greek physician who lived in the Pariclean age of Greece 400 years before the birth of Christ.

"This ancient avowal has come down through the centuries so consistent with the contemporary ethical concepts that even today most every doctor at the time of his graduation from medical school takes this oath as the code of honor of his profession. Its last covenant pledges that:

"Whatever, in connection with my professional practice or not in connection with it, I see or hear in the life of a man, which ought not to be spoken abroad, I will not divulge, as reckoning that all such should be kept secret."

The ethical impact of the Hippocratic oath on modern social institutions is emphasized by the writer who states, however, that it has been forced to yield in considerable measure "when it collided with other ethical concepts regarded by society as transcendent for the summum bonum."

Matter Still Debated
"To what extent the private engagement arising from a code of honor should yield to the demands of legal and social justice in a democracy," the article continues, "has been and is yet being debated by our courts, legislative bodies, and the medical profession itself."

Purpose of the article, the author states following his introduction, is to "point out the extent to which the original concept of full secrecy has been relaxed by the law of Michigan within three areas, viz., in proofs from the witness stand, in daily life, and in regulatory legislation."

In developing the areas where such professional secrecy has been relaxed, the author shows how physicians have testified in courts concerning litigants in which they were professionally interested, pointing out that numerous situations arise in which the code does not seal the lips of the medical witness.

Some Disclosures Mandatory
Concerning disclosures of the medical secrets of patients in daily pastor of the Bethel Baptist Church here since February, 1944.

life, the writer states that this matter "curiously enough has received but scant attention from the courts and legislatures. There are no statutes requiring doctors to pay damages to patients for the unauthorized divulgence of medical secrets. Reported cases of damage suits under the common law for breach of confidence are extremely rare."

The article is concluded with a discussion of disclosures by physicians which are made mandatory by statute. "The general welfare of society obviously has impelled our law-makers not only to remove the seal from the doctor's lips, but actually to force him under penalty to make known his patient's secrets," the author states. Principal statutes covering such mandatory disclosures are briefly reviewed by the writer.

Cars driven by Charles Stimac, 18, of Shingleton, and Kenneth Wilson, 43, of Manistique, were damaged in an accident at 10:15 p. m. Saturday at the county airport road.

Cusino Workers Find U. P. Deer Wintered Well

Extensive checking by workers of the Cusino wildlife station in northern Schoolcraft County indicate deer starvation was relatively insignificant in the Upper Peninsula this year, it is reported by the Department of Conservation.

Aided by inmate labor from the Cusino prison camp, the workers sample-checked random strips of three important yarding areas and found only a few dead deer.

The three areas checked were the Black River yard in the western U. P. and the Blaney and McMillan yards in the eastern part of the peninsula.

Checks bore out earlier predictions that mild weather would help the herd get through the winter without serious loss.

Lower peninsula yards were checked throughout the winter and only a few starved deer were found.

Rotary Wins Little League Opener 12-5

Only one of the two opening day games in Escanaba's Little League was played Saturday because of rain, and Rotary notched a 12-5 victory over St. Joe Boosters in the lone tilt.

With a one-run lead in the bottom of the fifth inning, Mammy Bourdeau broke up the game with a two-run double and Marv Nault, Tom Elegeret and Ken Hamilton unloaded homers for the Rotary team.

Hamilton starred at bat for the winners with three hits in four trips, including a pair of home runs, and drove in six runs.

Both starting pitchers, Dwayne Bero of Rotary and Ray Peterson of St. Joe, needed help. Elegeret came in for Rotary and kept the Booster hits well scattered to rack up his first win of the season.

The game was played under adverse weather conditions and the second game between the Lions and Kiwanis was cancelled. It will be played this evening at 6 at the Webster diamond.

Little Leaguers will swing back into action with a doubleheader at the league diamond, if it is ready for use, on Saturday. Rotary will meet Kiwanis at 5 and Lions will play St. Joe at 6:30.

U. S. Open Golf Tourney Starts

NEW YORK (AP)—The field for the United States Golf Association's 53rd open championship will be reduced to 300 by the time 1,638 divot duffers finish play over 32 courses late today.

Out of the play will come 265 qualifiers for the preliminary round at Oakmont, Pa., June 9-10. Two—John R. Knight and Arthur Armstrong—qualified at Honolulu a week ago.

The remaining 33, including defending champion Julius Boros, are exempted. This group numbers former titlists, PGA champion Jim Turnesa, British Open champion Bobby Locke, British amateur champion Harvie Ward, Jr., and the low 20 in the 1952 title play at Dallas.

But when they get to Oakmont all except Boros will have to go through 36 more holes of preliminary play under the new plan set up by the U. S. G. A. The surviving 149 and the defending champion will start the championship proper June 11.

Hopes Slim For U. S. Davis Cup Comeback

PARIS (AP)—The United States hopes of regaining the Davis Cup from Australia appear none too bright off the results of the French International tennis championships.

Russell Kingman, president of the U. S. Tennis Association, had said if Vic Seixas could beat Australia's Ken Rosewall in the singles, America could look forward to the challenge round with considerable confidence.

But Seixas was no match for the young Australian champion, losing 6-3, 6-4, 1-6, 6-2 on Saturday. And Sunday the Aussies' doubles team of Rosewall and Lewis Howard polished off their compatriots Mervyn Rose and Clive Wilderspin, 6-2, 6-1, 6-1, in the doubles' finals.

You walk over to Hutchinson and say: "How're things, Fred?" He has a polite word or two—but nothing about his team.

Oh, sure, he'll say the pitching is bad, or the fielding is poor. But everybody knows that.

Hutch, per haps wisely, won't name names.

What's the use? He knows—and the working press agrees—that the Tigers are putting out 100 per cent. They hustle and fight as hard, if not harder, than the next team.

Houtteman Is Loser

But, as the saying goes, you can't get water from a stone. Or, as one baseball veteran said: "I never saw hustle hit a double against the wall . . ."

Bob Lemon tamed the Tigers on eight hits to even his record at 5-5. He contributed a two-run single in the eighth.

Art Houtteman served up home run balls to Cleveland's Larry Doby and Bill Glynn and went down to his fourth defeat against two victories.

The Indians piled up 12 hits against Houtteman and Hal Erickson—three each by Dale Mitchell and Wally Westlake.

The Tigers haven't won in their last eight games. They've tied once and lost seven times.

In This Corner With Ray Crandall

The two Upper Peninsula Relay records broken at Marquette Saturday night were in the two events in which single individuals compete . . . One was the pole vault mark set by Escanaba's John Prokos two years ago . . . Prokos' mark was 10 feet 6 inches . . . Ray Cummings of Manistique cracked the broad jump record of 19 feet 3 3-4 inches set by Walter VanLaanen of Iron Mountain in 1952 with a leap of 19 feet 6 1/2 inches.

Speaking of track—probably for the last time this year—the Class D-E champions from Pickford appear to have a good start for repeating their successes next season . . . Speedster Eldred Leach, who was an easy winner in the 220 yard dash finals is only a junior . . . Also back next year will be Dean Rye, holder of the Upper Peninsula record in the half mile . . . This was the second straight D-E title for Pickford.

From Green Bay comes word that the Packers have already sold more season tickets to football games in Milwaukee this fall than they sold all last season . . . The most amazing part of it is that the season ticket drive in Milwaukee hasn't even started yet . . . It's scheduled for June 9-10-11 . . . It seems that the terrific outlay of time and cash which fans are putting on the line for their bustling Braves is actually helping interest in other big time sports in Milwaukee.

Wet weather sure threw a block into athletic activities here over the weekend . . . Washed out of action were Little League and Little Bigger League baseball openers, Tri County League baseball action, Bay de Noc baseball action, stock car races at the fairgrounds, golfing sessions and fishing trips and just plain old fashioned Memorial Day outings.

Hutchinson Just Sits And Shakes His Head

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)—They used to call him "Fiery Fred." Now it's "Hutch the Hush."

Fred Hutchinson, manager of the Detroit Tigers, just ain't a talking these days.

The reason is simple: There's nothing to talk about.

What can the guy say after watching his team, one of the worst in baseball history, lose game after game?

He just sits in his little cubicle in the dressing room, shaking his head and staring, blankly, into space.

18 1/2 Games Behind

That's the way it was Sunday after the Tigers had been whipped by the Cleveland Indians, 8-1. It was their eighth game without a win and left them gasping, 18 1/2 games from first place.

You walk over to Hutchinson and say: "How're things, Fred?" He has a polite word or two—but nothing about his team.

Oh, sure, he'll say the pitching is bad, or the fielding is poor. But everybody knows that.

Hutch, per haps wisely, won't name names.

Memorial Day Baseball Down

NEW YORK (AP)—Attendance and wagering reached near Memorial Day record proportions Saturday but baseball, its holiday program curtailed by rain, fell off at the turnstiles for the fourth straight year.

A total of 334,957 wagered $18,769,122 at 12 tracks compared to the Memorial Day record of 357,528 and $19,052,849 at 13 tracks in 1952.

Only six doubleheaders, three in each league, were played Saturday and they drew 154,222. A full schedule of Memorial Day games in 1952 attracted 225,519.

One game was rained out Sunday with the remaining seven drawing 137,891 for a two-day total of 292,113.

'Old Guard' Sparks Washington's Drive

Senators Make Challenge

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Washington's "old guard" is pushing the revitalized Senators back into the American League pennant race as a possible new challenger to the New York Yankees' bid for a fifth straight championship.

Three of the senior members of the "old guard"—35-year-old Micky Vernon, 31-year-old Clyde Vollmer and 30-year-old Frank Shea—boomed the three-gun salute yesterday as the Senators roared past Boston into the first division with a pair of victories over the Red Sox, 5-4 and 4-0.

Vollmer, a Red Sox castoff, singled home the winning run in the ninth inning against his former mates. Vernon, the league's leading hitter, drove in a run, set up the tying run and scored the winning run as the Nats came from behind with two tallies in the ninth. Shea, shunted off by the Yankees last year, spun a nine-hit shutout in the nightcap for his fourth triumph without a defeat.

Close To Cleveland

Washington, winner of four of its last five, still trails the league-leading Yankees by 6½ games, but is only two lengths away from second-place Cleveland.

The Yankees trounced Philadelphia's Athletics, 7-1, concentrating their attack on Alex Kellner, who had shut them out in his two previous starts against them. New York tallied twice in the second inning to snap the southpaw's scoreless streak of 20 innings against them. They banged him out in the sixth with a four-run uprising featured by pinch-hitter Gene Woodling's two-run double.

Cleveland swept past Chicago into second place with an 8-1 triumph over Detroit. The White Sox were held to a split in their double-header with the Browns. St. Louis took the nightcap, 7-4, after the White Sox had won the opener by the same score.

Dodgers Take Lead

Brooklyn's blazing Dodgers zoomed into first place in the National League, winning their ninth and tenth in a row at the expense of the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Dodgers made it eight out of eight over Pittsburgh, 4-3 and 4-1, to plunge the Bucs into the basement.

Brooklyn needed help from Cincinnati to take over first place by half a game over Milwaukee. The Redlegs swapped 8-6 decisions with the Braves, winning the opener to shove Milwaukee out of the lead.

St. Louis' stubborn Cardinals rebounded from Saturday's double setback, whipping the Chicago Cubs, 6-2, to remain 2½ games off the pace. Rain washed out the New York Giants and Philadelphia Phillies for the second straight day.

Kellner Misses Bid

Kellner's bid to become the only pitcher besides Walter Johnson to hurl three successive shutouts against the Yankees was short lived. He was scored on in the third inning and shelled in the sixth to join 11 other hurlers who have failed to duplicate Sir Walter's 1908 performance.

Bob Lemon hurled an eight-hitter to hand the Tigers their seventh successive loss. Homers by Bill Glynn and Larry Doby hastened Art Houtteman's fourth loss.

Billy Hunter, Brownie shortstop, enjoyed the best batting day of his career, banging out seven singles against the White Sox. His four hits in the night cap led to two runs batted in and two runs for himself to provide the margin of victory for rookie Mike Blyzka. Minnie Minoso, with three hits and two RBIs, paced the White Sox to victory in the opener.

Hodges Snaps Slump

Gil Hodges and Jackie Robinson were the big guns in the Dodger attack. Hodges, continuing to slug his way out of a near-disastrous batting slump, drove in two runs in the first game with a pair of singles. Robinson had five straight hits. The nightcap was called after 6½ innings because of darkness.

Sophomore Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee and rookie Jim Greengrass of Cincinnati vied for hitting honors in the Braves-Redlegs split. Each banged two homers, one in each game. Each drove in three runs. Greengrass also had a double and three singles. Mathews had a double and one single.

Harvey Haddix, the Cardinals rookie southpaw, was the whole show as he spun a six-hitter over the Cubs for his sixth victory. He cracked two of St. Louis' seven hits off loser Turk Lown and his successors and fanned 10.

Memorial Rites Held Saturday

We must rededicate ourselves to the task of assuring freedom for all, Rev. Joseph S. Dickson, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, declared in a Memorial Day message delivered at the Legion burial plot in Fernwood cemetery.

The speaker said the day was not one of celebration but one of sadness when we meet quietly before rows of crosses and flags to give tribute to silent ranks of honored dead slain upon thousands of battlefields in wars that have made and kept this nation free.

It is a day to remember war but not to glorify it, a day to remember the cost of war. "We meet at the cemetery with our neighbors to remember that neighbor's boy who didn't come back," Rev. Dickson said. "For us the vacant chair is the real cost of war."

Greed War Cause

"Wars and battles are vicious, tragic and insane, a combination of greed, stupidity and brutality of men and nations," the speaker declared. "Our men have fought in agony and filth, boredom and fear, loneliness and confusion, pain and exhaustion—this is the essence of war."

"Only one thing is worse than the plague of war and that is to live under the tyranny of ruthless oppressors," Rev. Dickson emphasized. "Recently I met and heard Princess Juliana of Roumania, whose country fought against the Russians in World War II and which since has been overrun and is now part of the world being the Iron Curtain. Nook and life tell dramatically how frustrating, humiliating and dehumanizing is the fate of a nation overrun by the great new movements that have swept our age."

Alluding to a local situation the speaker pointed out that we are upset in the Upper Peninsula because there are four dangerous criminals at large. All our forces of law are mobilized to track them down. "Picture what it would be like to have our police and public officials recruited from Marquette prison and led by such men as we are now hunting. Then you will know what it would be like to live behind the Iron Curtain."

Fight For Freedom

"The wars we have fought have bought us time to prevent this happening."

"The time of peace building is slow and hard. The men who have died to buy our freedom have a glory as though they were pond lilies riding from a muck swamp. This we honor."

"Someone has said: 'Great events oftentimes are not settled by the victory of great principles but simply because people get tired.' 'The enemies of the right and the good are ruthless and relentless. They can't afford to get tired.'"

As long as one nation remains under the domination of such vicious men and systems as we know are loose in the world we cannot be content until they are removed and men made free.

"We have been destined to lead this great crusade of freedom for all men everywhere. The cost for buying in this far along the word is the crosshatched hillsides of a thousand battlefield cemeteries."

"We cannot shirk our duty when they have paid so high a price! We must rededicate ourselves to the task of buying freedom for all mankind," Rev. Dickson concluded.

Parade Before Service

The speaker was introduced by Wallace C. Cameron, superintendent of schools, who served as master of ceremonies. There were selections by the high school band, a salute to the dead by a firing squad and sounding of taps. O'Neu D'Amour served as marshal and chaplain.

A parade of the business section preceded the memorial services. In the line of march were Legionnaires, the Gladstone High School band, GHS twirlers, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts. The band was directed by Paul Cowen, public school music supervisors.

City Budget Is Adopted

With but one major change, the 1953-54 budget for the City of Gladstone was adopted as introduced following public hearing before the City Commission at an adjourned meeting late last week.

The change cut $500 from the contingent fund. In recent years the city has approved an amount of $2500 for school library and nurse expense. This amount was cut this year to $2,000 with the stipulation that all of the amount be used for library maintenance.

A review of the budget shows $48,489.00 is to be levied in taxes. Using $3,463,540.00 as the total assessed valuation a tax rate of 14 mills will be sufficient for the city needs.

A comparison of the budget with that of last year:

New Speedway Champ Like Barney Oldfield

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Bill Vukovich, winner of a record $89,497, 96 first prize in the Memorial Day 500-mile auto race, is going to remind a lot of speed fans of the late Barney Oldfield.

Vukovich chews a big cigar like Barney's and he is an even fiercer competitor. But he doesn't talk as much.

Vuky headed for New York and a television appearance today but he took along Wilbur Shaw, three-time winner of the race, to do the talking.

Gets New Ford

The new speedway champ suffered visibly Sunday night at the public presentation of his winnings. On top of the cash, he received the Ford sunliner pace car, free meals for a year, a dog, an elaborate set of tools and assorted trophies.

Vukly mumbled something about "having a good ride" in the low Frey fuel injection special owned by the Howard Keck Co. of Los Angeles and hurried back to his seat.

A combination of 91-degree heat and fumes from high explosive fuel mixtures took a greater toll than accidents and forced repeated pit stops for driver changes.

Neither heat nor fumes bothered the husky Vukovich, who asserted at the finish he was ready to go again. Starting in first position, he ran away from the field on the first lap and set a record of 133.095 for the two and one-half mile circuit.

Slows Down Near End

The 44-year-old mechanic gave up the lead for only five laps, a quarter of the way through the race, when he made the first of three brief stops for tires and fuel.

Fred Agabachian led one lap, Jim Agabachian led one lap, Jim Rathman one lap and Sam Hanks three laps—enough variety to keep Vukovich from beating Billy Arnold's 1930 record of leading 198 of the 200 laps.

Vukovich cracked a series of records for intermediate distances but he sensibly slowed down toward the end, with a lead of about seven miles over second-place Art Cross.

Cross, driving for Bessie Lee Paoli of Springfield, Ill., won $27,296.97 for second place. Third position was worth $16,421.97 to veteran Sam Hanks.

Patterson Seeking Seventh Straight Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson, the hard-hitting Olympic middleweight boxing champion, seeks his seventh straight victory as a pro tonight when he collides with Gordon Wallace of Brantford, Ont., in an eight rounder at the Eastern Parkway arena.

The unbeaten 19-year-old Brooklyn Negro won his first five scraps by knockouts and his sixth by decision over experienced Dick Wagner on April 13. Wallace, who has lost only three of 24 fights, figures to make Floyd work for his money although the youngster is a heavy choice to win.

The bout starts at 8 p.m., CST, and will be telecast to some areas of the country by Dumont.

Charles J. Gevecker, chairman of the National AAU Boxing Committee has been an active member of the AAU since 1904.

The revenue to the state of Florida from Hialeah's 40-day racing season was $5,442,254.56—a new state record.

Veteran Dutch Harrison Seeks U.S. Open Spot

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Veteran Dutch Harrison, the big smiling Ardmore, Okla., pro, tries for a spot in the U. S. Open today at Bellerive Country Club—the same tight, rolling course he licked yesterday to win the 50th annual Western Open Golf Championship.

The 43-year-old Harrison, a pro since 1930, breezed home with a 4-stroke margin in the 72-hole gold anniversary Western on a 2-under par 278. Harrison pocketed $2,400 in the $15,000 meet, which he has found elusive in the past.

He missed the 1950 Western crown when he took three strokes from the edge of the final green. In 1942 he finished third.

Cinches Victory

But yesterday he had the title packed away after 63 holes as he carded a 2-under par 33 on the almost impossible to close over the back nine of Bellerive's 6,574-yard par 70. He finished with a 69.

Lloyd Mangrum, the defending champion from Chicago, Ed Furgol of St. Louis and Freddie Haas of New Orleans tied for second with 282. All three made brilliant clutch putts on the final hole to gain $1,466.67 each.

That placed Mangrum in the No. 1 spot among money winners with a $12,483 total so far this year. Ben Hogan, the mechanical Master, who did not appear in the Western, is second with $11,400.

Tulsa Skee Riegel, coming fast among the pros, was fifth in the Western with a 284, good for $1,000. Tommy Bolt of Maplewood, N. J., finished sixth with a 2-under 68 on the final round for 285 and $800.

U. S. Open Next

Harrison, who won his first major tournament with the Western crown, and 60 other pros and amateurs will compete for 25 qualifying places at Bellerive for the U. S. Open.

Julius Boros, the 1952 U. S. Open king from Mid-Pines, N. C., had a 290 for a two-way tie for 14th place in the Western.

Fred Wampler of Indianapolis came up with a 67—the best round of the tourney—on the final 18, but finished no better than a tie for 16th at 291.

Ed Ervasti of Detroit, low amateur in the 1952 Western, duplicating that achievement with 294, one less than St. Louis amateur Bob Cochran.

Graduation Week Exercises Begin

The uncertainty of things material was stressed by Rev. Melton Crawford, pastor of Memorial Methodist Church, at Baccalaureate services which opened graduation week exercises at Gladstone High School last evening.

Material riches may disappear quickly but education and God-given graces can never be taken away, the graduate were told. These were two things of which they could always be sure.

The capped and gown'd graduates entered the auditorium to the music of Pomp and Circumstance. Elder Rev Stowe gave the invocation and Rev. Crawford a scripture reading.

Three selections, "Ave Maria" by Vittoria, "Hallelujah" by Beethoven and "Land of Hone and Glory" by Elgar were sung by the mixed chorus.

Rev. Crawford delivered the farewell sermon and Elder Stowe pronounced benediction. Pomp and Circumstance was also used as the recessional.

Banquet Tonight

Tonight the seniors will gather at the House of Ludington for their annual banquet. Gary Nieuwenkamp will serve as master of ceremonies. Paula Olive and Pat LaPorte will read of poem about the class and Dick Sundling, class president will speak briefly. Jarry Norick will be heard in a piano number which he composed.

Class night will be on Tuesday and Thursday evening the annual Commencement is to be held with Dr. Conrad Uozs as the speaker. Diplomas will be presented by James T. Jones, president of the Board of Education.

Casualties In Korea Reach 2,303,542 In 3 Years Of Fighting

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Casualties in Korea have reached a total of 2,303,542 for both sides, a survey of official and estimated figures showed.

The Korean War will be three years old next June 25 unless truce talks halt the fighting.

Official figures of U. N. losses furnished by the U. N. delegation sources, and estimates of the Communist losses made by U. N. command sources provide the total in the periodic Associate Press casualty survey.

Many U. N. casualty figures cover the fighting through April and early May. Some are six months or more old. Estimates of Communist losses cover fighting through April 20.

Casualty figures for the U. S., the ROK Army of South Korea, and the 15 U. N. Allies with troops in Korea now total 406,542.

Total Communist casualties are estimated at 1,897,000.

U. N. dead and wounded total 320,117. Communist dead and wounded are estimated at 1,347,000 with another 406,000 non-battle casualties. The Chinese Communists have suffered heaviest in the war.

The latest totals represent an increase of 174,542 for both sides since the previous AP survey made last December. This figure includes an increase of 36,538 in U. N. killed and wounded and an estimated increase of 111,100 in Communist killed and wounded—a ratio of more than three to one.

Prisoner and missing in action figures account for the balance.

The ROK Army listed 183,727 dead and wounded.
